Full Time, Intensive ESL & University Preparation Programs

London Language Institute offers ESL and Academic Preparation programs for students of all English abilities. LLI offers two distinct courses for those who wish to focus on general English studies with an emphasis on conversational practice and another program for those students going to high school, college and university. Full time schedules are 23-30 hours per week in class.

London Language Institute is proud to offer a pathway program for students seeking entrance into high school, college and university. LLI has developed a curriculum that prepares students for academic courses taught in English and has relationships with local high schools, colleges and universities across Canada and into the United States. Our 7 level curriculum is offered throughout the year with monthly start dates. Level assessment and student orientation is performed upon a student's arrival in London. Our curriculum utilizes a mastery learning teaching methodology where students learn in a small classroom setting with the primary focus on language acquisition and usage.

In this learning environment students are very involved and active which is the most effective way to learn English.
